

Salem S. Al-Deyab is a Professor of Organic and Polymer Chemistry and Supervisor of Petrochemical Research Chair, Department of Chemistry, College of Science, King Saud University. He received his Ph.D. Degree in industrial chemistry from university of Cincinnati – OHIO. U.S.A November, 1982 and has published over 180 peer-reviewed research papers, and several families of patents. He is the editor several books one of them Petroleum and petrochemical industries. He is the supervisor of petrochemical research chair and Served as a member of the scientific committee of SABIC polymer Research Chair, and as a member of several committees in the field of petrochemicals. He has been an invited speaker at many institutes and scientific meetings. He leads a very dynamic research team focused on the design, synthesis and study of the properties of Polymeric and nanomaterials as well as their applications in the petrochemical field. On another hand, he is a consultant in a number of industrial and petrochemical companies.