

PROF. DR. TADEUSZ SZUMIATA

Dr. Tadeusz Szumiata is Professor of Physics at Faculty of Mechanical Engineering, University of Technology and Humanities in Radom (Poland). He was born in 1970, he obtained Doctorate degree in Solid State Physics in 2002. He does research in Environmental Science, Nanomaterials Engineering, Defectoscopy, Industrial Mass Metrology and Metal–Organic Chemistry by applying magnetic methods and Mössbauer spectrometry.

t.szumiata@uthrad.pl

SCOPUS ID :

6602256101

UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY AND
HUMANITIES IN RADOM, POLAND

He published more than 56 papers cited by 238 documents. His H index is 9 on Scopus. He is guest editor of high-score MDPI Materials Special Issue and a reviewer in more than 8 peer-reviewed international journals.

He is one of the founders and vice president of the Polish Society of Mössbauer Spectroscopy and an active member of Le Groupe Francophone de Spectrométrie Mössbauer (GFMSM). He has close scientific connections with Université Mohammed Premier d'Oujda (UMP, Morocco) concerning environmental chemistry and corrosion processes investigations.
